DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-8 and 10-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The claims are directed to a method or process for performing a computation via a mathematical algorithm to produce a mathematical result. The claims are not limited to a practical application of the mathematical algorithm because the result is not a useful, concrete and tangible result. More specifically the result is not a tangible result because it is not a real-world result.

Applicants argue that the claims have a practical application because practical applications are disclosed in the specification. While the specification may disclose a practical application for the claimed mathematical algorithm the claims themselves are directed a mathematical algorithm without a practical application recited therein, i.e. recitation of a practical application in the specification is not sufficient because the practical application must be recited in the claims.

Claims 1-8 and 10-12 are directed to a program per se. While the program contains functionally descriptive material the recording of the functionally descriptive material on some computer-readable medium, which would enable the functionality to be realized, fails to be recited.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 19-29 are allowed.
3. Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
